

W. F. WALTON.

For Congress.

HON. G. G. GILBERT

Of Shelby County.

THE Hon. D. G. Colson seems to have as many lives as a Thomas cat. Bullets nor other death dealing contrivances seem to have no effect on him and he miraculously comes out of runaways and other accidents unscathed. While driving at Middlesboro Saturday his horse took fright and became unmanageable. After running about half a mile the buggy struck a telegraph pole and was turned over. Strange to relate, Mr. Colson didn't receive a scratch.

THE pot is boiling all over the State. Brown men have seen the error of their way and are returning to their first love. Four of them were put on the Mercer county delegation Saturday to the Louisville convention.

AN effort was made to keep Mercer county from sending a McCreary delegation to Louisville, but it failed most ignominiously. The anti-McCreary delegates didn't get enough votes to count.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

Colorado democrats instructed for Bryan.

Boyle county sent an un instructed delegation of good democrats.

Shelby democrats instructed for Editor Charles M. Lewis for district delegate.

J. R. Keene, the New York sporting man, has bet $25,000 on Bryan's election.

The National committee of the gold democratic party has been called to meet at Indianapolis July 25.

The republicans are making much ado over carrying Oregon, which they claim is an endorsement of McKinley's administration.

Knox county endorsed James D. Black and scored the republican assassins. J. C. Jones was instructed for district delegate.

Mercer county did not instruct her delegates. Strong resolutions against Taylor and his crowd and Mount for harboring them were adopted.

The recommendation of Capt. Calhoun that the Taylor militia be paid for services will not be carried out by Gov. Beekham, and ought not to be.

The Connecticut democratic convention at Waterbury endorsed W. J. Bryan for president and pledged support to the platform to be adopted in Kansas City.

Democrats in Wayne and Russell counties instructed for Blackburn, McCreary, McQuown and Poyntz for delegates at large, and for W. R. Cress for delegate from the 11th district.

Laurel endorsed James D. Black for governor, and instructed for McCreary, Grey Woodson, Louis McQuown and Blackburn for delegates at large and D. R. Hammock for district delegate.

Twenty-four States have so far held democratic conventions, and Bryan has instructions from 22. He lacks only 30 votes of a majority in the National convention, and but 184 of the two thirds necessary to a nomination.

Speaking of "confessions," Taylor's flight from justice and refusal to run for the office of governor are actions that speak louder than the words of Fulton, Golden and other squealing conspirators.—Louisville Times

Anderson, Spencer and Jessamine sent un instructed delegations: Rockcastle instructed for McCreary, Blackburn, McQuown and Geo. T. Farris for delegates at large and Harvey Helm and Willard Mitchell for district delegates.

The Washington Times says: We note with pleasure that even Kentucky republicans are beginning to sicken of the contemptible creature, Taylor, whose only friends now are the party machinists, who are shielding him from justice in Indiana. Bye and bye, we predict that even Gov. Mount will realize what a dangerous object lesson of republican contempt for law he is affording, and turn the cowardly fugitive over to the Kentucky police.

BRIEF NEWS NOTATION.

A. M. Quarrier, 2d vice president of the L. & N., died suddenly in New York.

The three year-old son of Crittendon Pepper was burned to death in Bourbon county.

Swain is the name of a new postoffice in Whitley and James H. Swain is postmaster.

Simon Adams, a Negro, was lynched just outside of Columbus, Ga. He attempted to assault two little girls.

Four persons were killed and at least 20 injured in a collision on the Oakland Beach, R. I., electric road Sunday.

Mrs. Rebecca Lowe, of Georgia, was elected president of the Federation of Women's Clubs at the Milwaukee convention.

Gen. Otis in an interview at Chicago says the war in the Philippines is over and that the guerrilla warfare can't last long.

A report of the Southern Mutual Building & Loan Association shows it to be $250,000 in debt and hopelessly insolvent.

Harry E. Miles and W. F. Stafford, the motorcycle riders, were killed by colliding at Waltham, Mass., while racing a 20-mile race.

Ex-Gov. Oates, of Alabama, shot and killed a Negro who had just murdered the ex-governor's servant in the kitchen.

Assistant Adj. Gen. Murray has ordered Maj. J. Embury Allen to investigate the alleged misconduct of Capt. Longmire and Sergt. McClure at Mayaville.

The town of Virginia, Minn., on the Mesaba Iron range, was almost wiped out of existence by fire. In less than 60 minutes 125 buildings were reduced to ashes.

Jockey J. Perkins was fatally hurt at the Newport race track. He had the mount on the Billy Teletta, and was trying to force her into the lead when she was bumped into and fell.

We are indeed glad that Mr. Jno. W. Yerkes has at last announced for something. For the last 10 years he has been "mentioned" every time an office was to be filled from constable to governor, always being heralded as the strongest man in his party and a sprinter from away back. We shall see now what we shall see, which will doubtless be that the Danville man is not such a winner after all, even though he be smooth of limb, well fed and well groomed. Mr. Yerkes is a pleasant, clever gentleman to meet up with, is well versed in the requirements of democratic society, knows how to wear a spade tall coat properly and is outwardly a well appearing man. Those who know him best, however, say there is not a meaner republican in the business nor a more purblind partisan. In politics it is safe to assume that he is no better than his party but endorses the acts of its leaders no matter to what lengths they may go. That he is a sympathizer with Taylor is shown in the fact that he had the assassination suspect to come to his home and be his guest, even after he was charged with being an accessory before the fact of the meanest crime known to its annals. Mr. Yerkes will have to carry the weight and the odium of his party's attempt at government by assassination and we opine that he will be so heavily handicapped he will make but a poor showing in the race, no matter how much he and his henchmen may prate about civil liberty and other inventions to catch the unwary. Dog Tray got it by keeping bad company and before the 15th of November Mr. Yerkes will know how it is himself. Personally we like the handsome and smooth mannered Danvillian, but we hope to be able to help him before he is many months older than he answered the call so quickly and that he ought to have let a less accomplished republican carry the load of infamy that will bring his back and send him to ignominious defeat.

GOV. McCREARY is sure to be one of the delegates at large to the Kansas City convention. He leads largely in the instructed vote Saturday, so far as reported. The honor could not be more worthily bestowed nor could a truer or more faithful democrat be rewarded.

Gov. McCreary has never faltered in his allegiance to the democratic party and he is held in the highest esteem by Mr. Bryan, with whom he served in Congress, and who knows his worth as a man and a statesman. The other three delegates will likely be Senator Blackburn, Lewis McQuown and possibly Senator Poyntz.

In his card declining what it was never intended by the leaders that he should have, Taylor says: "How much I have suffered for freedom's sake few will ever know." And how it feels to be hanged for his many crimes and misdemeanors, it won't be permitted him to tell.

So far as heard from, there is no other aspirant for National committee-man except the incumbent, Editor Grey Woodson, of the Owensboro Messenger, who has made an admirable one and eminently deserves a further nomination.

THE Shelby Sentinel celebrated its 15th birthday last week. Charley Lewis was present at the birth, but none those who have fathered it has made a better paper than he is doing.

At New York a brown colt by St. George, dam Marie Jansen, was sold to A. Featherstone for $8,500. Twelve of the Kingston rearlings, owned by James B. Ferguson, brought $16,000.

The graves of 2,200 Confederate soldiers at Camp Chase, near Columbus, O., were decorated by Federal and Confederate veterans. Gov. Nash, of Ohio, made the principal address, paying high tribute to those who fell in the Southern cause.

Six hundred letters were ground to fragments in the Brooklyn bridge pneumatic tube, the cylinder containing the mail not being started right at the Manhattan end. When the letters burst into the Brooklyn office with the rush of air, they were reduced to a pulp.

Thirty extra calves at $4, 170 hogs at 3 to 5c and 231 lambs, $4 the average, at 5 to 6c are some of the sales noted in the Winchester Democrat.

Walter Shropshire, of Oxford, sheared 504 pounds of wool from 43 sheep, being an average of 12 pounds per sheep.—Paris Kentuckian.

Lutes & Co. bought of Gus McCormack 30 hogs for July delivery at 4c and of other parties 45 wethers at $3.40. They sold here yesterday six hogs at $17.

Emmett McCormack sold 415 lambs at the Bourbon stock yards, Louisville, last week at 7c. He is well pleased with that market and will ship several more cars this week. The freight is no more than to Cincinnati and the "drift" is not as much.

By the will of Ella N. Amerman, widow of Representative Amerman, of Pennsylvania, $10,000 is provided for the care of two horses and a dog. The animals are to be treated with the utmost consideration, especially the horses, which are to be tenderly cared for when they are beyond the age of usefulness.

COURT DAY.—Of the 290 cattle at A. B. Florence's stock pens yesterday, not over half of them sold. The day was dull generally and buyers and sellers were far apart. The horse and mule market was also dull.

The Southern railway has abandoned the Shelbyville and Bloomfield railway, and no more trains are to be operated over it.

YESTERDAY was the dulllest county court day in a long time. The crowd was small and business generally off.

TO THE PEN.—Deputy Sheriff H. L. Tate of Rockcastle, passed down to Frankfort Saturday with John Mullins, who got a year for grand larceny.

NEARLY 100 operations have been successfully performed at Joseph Price Infirmary since Jan. 1. The patronage has been good all along, but the building is almost crowded now.

A CURIOSITY in the shape of 11 strawberries run into one was the production of Mr. John J. McRoberts' patch. The stems grew together and a fusus naturae was the result.

BRENDEN four other leading fire insurance companies, I represent the Old Continental in the counties of Lincoln, Boyle and Casey. Office Lancaster Street. Phone 82. R. B. Mahony.

THE Somerset Paragon comments on our local stating that Confederates spent more money in Louisville than the G. A. R's, but as we can't find out what Brer Hamford is driving at, we'll let him pass this time without exclamation.

A DISPATCH from Cincinnati says that Mr. B. F. Robinson, the Garrard county stock trader, has filed suit there to recover $500 he bet with W. J. Lindley, a stockyard merchant, on Goebel being finally declared governor of Kentucky.

FOUND HER COW.—Mrs. W. H. Lynch, of Wildie, writes that her ad. in this paper found her lost cow, which proved to be at Maywood. She also says that there was a shooting affair on Horse Lick the other morning. John Harrison shot and seriously wounded Ben Drew.

STRANGE PLAYMATES.—Calloway Nance, of Boyle, who was here yesterday, told us that his five-year-old son and a 35-pound turkey gobbler are the fondest playmates he ever saw. They play together from early till late and seem devoted to each other. Neither seems satisfied when they are separated.

A CRAB ORCHARD gentleman who was here Saturday, told us that his end was largely in favor of Gov. Beckham for governor, but we are still of the opinion that Hon. James D. Black will carry the county hands down. Judge Lewis has a following, but Mr. W. B. Smith's friends seem to be few and far between.

CUMMINS & McCLARY are great advertisers. In addition to their half column in this paper, they have the country flooded with large bills and attractive signs of a humorous character, while yesterday they displayed samples and prices of their goods in a glass case in the court-house yard that attracted much attention.

SOME sounder cut the ropes of Rev. Fagaley's camp meeting tent the other night and it blew down during one of the wind storms of last week. Fortunately services were not being held and nobody was hurt. Good crowds are attending the meeting and interesting sermons are preached daily by Mr. Fagaley and Rev. David Holtzclaw.

FIVE YEARS.—The jury in case of Eugene K. Wilson, on trial at Mr. Vernon, charged with the murder of Miss Mary Cloyd at London, by performing a criminal operation on her, gave him five years in the penitentiary. Wilson belongs to a good family and was a young lawyer of much promise. Suspension of judgment for 60 days to prepare an appeal to the court of appeals was granted.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—Mr. J. M. Roberts, of Valley Oak, who was here yesterday, told us that Matt Ellerson's house near that place was struck by lightning last week and considerable damage done it. One bolt ran down the chimney and besides severely shocking several members of the family, a dresser and other furniture in the room were torn to pieces. His family's escape from death was miraculous.

THOSE papers that are publishing a list of Kentucky fairs are requested to include Hustonville, July 18—three days.

I will give 50c reward for the return to this office of John Lasley's checked coat lost between Walnut Flat and Rowland. Henry Westmoreland.

THE examination of white teachers Friday and Saturday will be held in the male academy building on the hill on account of the court house being used by circuit court.

THE young people are looking forward to a great time at the hop Friday evening, when the immortal Saxton will be on hand with his superb orchestra. The gentlemen are requested to meet at the Opera House that night at 8 o'clock sharp to fill out the floor cards.

21.—While taking the census, Enumerator George A. McRoberts found 23 colored persons living in one small house belonging to T. C. Ball. By the way Mr. McRoberts will complete his labors this week, but as it is a $500 fine to give out any information about his work, he has kept mum on the subject.

IN the county court yesterday, John J. McRoberts qualified as notary public, with Hon. P. M. McRoberts security, and Mrs. Maggie T. Hobbs qualified as executrix of the will of her husband, B. Y. Hobbs, which was admitted to probate. The case of M. G. Nevius' heirs against M. G. Nevius' heirs was ordered to be heard.

HONORABLE MENTION.—A friend sends us the following: Miss Mary Bradley, of Danville, graduated last week at Caldwell College, taking the highest grade in scholarship of her class of 19, her average for the two years being 95.8-10 on scale of 100. She has attended school 10 years, eight of which has been without the loss of a single day and has by her reports stood at the head of classes with an average of 94 for the last five years.

FOUND A ROOM.—Notwithstanding the fact that Mrs. Julia Hughes and family had lived in the house seven years they did not know until it was being pulled down of a room upstairs. It was well plastered, of fairly good size and contained only a long bench, but there was no door to enter it. A small window opened at the back of the house and none of the family had sufficient curiosity or cared to go to the trouble of climbing up and looking in. What the room was ever used for or who put the bench in it is not known.

THE noted case against the L. & N., at Lebanon, for unjust discrimination in coal freight rates, the specific charge being that coal was hauled cheaper for a mill than for the general community in which it was found guilty, gets a reversal from the court of appeals, which holds that it is not a discrimination when the coal is used in manufacturing and where the product manufactured is hauled by the road which gives the rebate. Judge Paynter delivered a dissenting opinion, which is concurred in by Judges Guffy and White, holding that the facts complained of do constitute unjust discrimination and virtually says that if the majority opinion is maintained as the law, Section 215 of the Constitution is a dead letter.

CIRCUIT COURT convened at 9 A. M. yesterday and Judge Sauley proceeded to business by swearing in Sheriff S. M. Owens and deputies, M. G. Reynolds, C. B. Owens and P. C. Miller, and selecting the following grand jurors and delivering to them a clear, comprehensive and comprehensible charge.

J. E. Wright, foreman, Galen Rogers, E. T. Pence, W. D. Johnson, J. H. Caldwell, Henry Leech, S. H. Gooch, Henderson Young, Frank Howard, Ed Lewis, John P. Gooch and R. G. Collier.

The petit jury is as follows: J. T. Bohon, J. B. Glickerson, G. A. Lackey, A. B. Foley, W. H. Boone, Arch Frye, W. C. Greening, Hurdly Gooch, Sam Dudderar, J. P. Riffe, P. P. Nunnally, J. H. McAllister, E. D. Peyton, J. S. Owsley, Jr., J. C. McWhorter, J. C. Huston, Dink Farmer, J. H. White, Wm Epperson, D. K. Farris, R. R. Gentry, Tim Hutchison, John Peoples, C. F. Epperson.

The case of Lillburn Padgett for malicious wounding was set for next Tuesday. Dan Hester was acquitted for selling liquor unlawfully, but James Carter caught it for $20 for the same offense. J. Hughes was fined $20 for gambling and the case for carrying concealed weapons against Dean Smith was stricken from the docket.

In the afternoon, A. G. Coffey was acquitted on two charges of assaulting the Pitman family and drawing a pistol on them, agreement having been reached that the verdict in one case should be effective in all.

Royal
BAKING POWDER
-Absolutely Pure-

For the third of a century the standard for strength and purity. It makes the hot bread, hot biscuit, cake and other pastry light, sweet and excellent in every quality.

No other baking powder is "just as good as Royal," either in strength, purity or wholesomeness.

Manifold priced, imitation baking powders are upon the market. These are made with alum, and care should be taken to avoid them, as alum is a poison, never to be taken in the food.

CHANGED THE DATE.—George D. Weatherford telephoned us yesterday that the date of the Hustonville fair had been changed to July 18-20th.

HOPKINS.—Our people will regret to hear of the death of Rev. Alexander Campbell Hopkins, who recently gave several kinetoscope entertainments here. It occurred at Louisville Sunday, where he had been sick for some time. As a Sunday School evangelist, he accomplished wonderful good and his success was generally acknowledged. He leaves a wife and four children.

WATTS.—Weed Smith, after repeatedly dunning Harvey Watts for $2 he owed him and getting promises always to be broken, yesterday told him that he had led to him all through the matter. Thereupon Watts struck Smith several times, some say with his fist, Smith says with a rock, cutting a big gash on his head over the ear. Watts was arrested and taken before Judge Carson. Watts claimed that Judge Carson would not give him justice and without making an affidavit, that officer transferred him to Judge Bailey, who set his case for trial Saturday and allowed him bail in $25. Mr. Smith was also arrested.

"I AM for Beckham and against any man, who is for changing the Goebel law," said Col. J. W. Guest yesterday. "If Goebel had have lived, there would not have been a word said against it by those who championed it in his life time. If it was a good law then, it is a good law now, and I am opposed to changing it just because its honored author was assassinated by the cowards at Frankfort." His son-in-law, Boyle Gill Boyle, of the Louisville Post, will please make a note of this to show his readers that he has a father in law of the true grit, who is an uncompromising, dyed-in-the-wool and a yard wide democrat, and abhors assassination and hates turncoats and hypocrites.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Henry Riddle, of Cumberland county, has just married his fourth wife and he is only 34.

George Brummitt, 23, and Miss Sarah Stephens, 18, were married at John A. Singleton's.

T. B. Cronwell, the well known Lexington correspondent, who helped work up evidence in the assassination cases, and Miss Nellie Muir, daughter of Lexington's fire chief, were married a few days ago.

Miss Pansy Hughes, daughter of Chief of Police Jumbo Hughes, of Somerset, eloped to Chattanooga with James O'Rear, a C. S. yard foreman. Hughes got on to the movement and had them arrested by telegraph at Chattanooga. While in the office of the police station they jumped out of a window and escaped. Striking for the Georgia line they were nearly to it when officers intercepted them and brought them back. Nothing daunted, O'Rear instituted habeas corpus proceedings for his would be bride, which were granted, the young lady swore she was old enough to contract marriage and the knot was tied. All's well that ends well and if "Jumbo" doesn't forgive and take them to his heart, "my children," he deserves to be reduced to the ranks and robbed of his peacock feather.
